Conversion to Public Benefit Corporation

RESOLVED: Walgreens Boots Alliance, Inc. (“Company”) shareholders request that our Board of Directors take the steps necessary to amend our certificate of incorporation and, if necessary, bylaws (including presenting such amendments to the shareholders for approval) to become a public benefit corporation (a “PBC”) in light of its adoption of the Business Roundtable Statement of the Purpose of a Corporation (the “Statement”).<sup>1</sup>

SUPPORTING STATEMENT: The Company signed the Statement, which proclaims that “we share a fundamental commitment to all of our stakeholders ... . We commit to deliver value to all of them, for the future success of our companies, our communities and our country.”<sup>2</sup>

However, the Company is a conventional Delaware corporation, so that directors’ fiduciary duties emphasize the company and its shareholders, but not stakeholders (except to the extent that stakeholder-regarding decisions create value for shareholders over time). Accordingly, when the interests of shareholders and stakeholders such as workers or customers clash, the Company’s legal duty excludes all but shareholders. As one Delaware law firm reported to another signatory considering conversion, directors may consider stakeholder interests only if “any decisions made with respect to such stakeholders are in the best interests of the corporation and its stockholders.”<sup>3</sup>

That contradicts the commitment made in the Statement.

In contrast, directors of a PBC must “balance” the interests of shareholders, stakeholders and a specified public benefit,<sup>4</sup> giving legal status to the Statement’s otherwise empty promise. A company required to balance stakeholder interests could prioritize stakeholder interests, even if doing so sacrificed higher returns for shareholders.

A company that opposes conversion to the public-benefit corporation form, on the other hand, thereby recognizes that the Statement was simply a recital of well-understood old principles that changed nothing, and that leaves the overriding duty to shareholders fully in place. Such a company would reduce reputational and legal risks by withdrawing from a Statement that was aggressively sold to the public as making significant new commitments that cannot be achieved under the Delaware business-corporation form.<sup>5</sup>
