

JPMorgan Chase & Co. Shareholder Meeting Question

The World Economic Forum (WEF) lists JP Morgan Chase & Co. as a partner, but this spending isn't disclosed to shareholders. Why is the Company willing to financially support WEF, but unwilling to be forthright about it to shareholders?

WEF openly advocates for transhumanism, abolishing private property ownership, eating bugs, social credit systems, and a host of other blatantly Orwellian objectives. Do you share this dystopian vision for the future – one that JP Morgan Chase & Co. shareholders are, in effect, funding? If not, are you willing to end the partnership with WEF?
