

Netflix Shareholder Meeting Question
Scott Shepard, Free Enterprise Project Coordinator
National Center for Public Policy Research, June 4, 2020

I'm Scott Shepard with the National Center for Public Policy Research.

Susan Rice, a member of the Netflix Board of Directors, seems to have little experience in the production or distribution of audio-visual productions.<sup>1</sup> Perhaps she was given a seat on the board of directors in order to secure the Obamas for Netflix, but that goal has been accomplished.<sup>2</sup> Now it appears she is becoming increasingly embroiled, along with other members of the Obama Administration, in a Watergate-style scandal of massive election and post-election corruption.<sup>3</sup> Given this, and Rice's already deeply polarizing place in American life, has not the time come to cut ties with her?
